KENNEBUNKPORT OPERA GUILD, INC.
The Kennebunkport Opera Fund is sponsoring two performances of Rossini’s “The Barber of Seville” at the Kennebunk Town Hall on Friday, July 21 and Saturday, July 22 at 8:00 p.m. The Turnau Opera Players of New York will perform this lively and entertaining comic opera with a spirited English translation of the original Italian libretto.

Featured in this forthcoming production are some of the most exciting young voices in professional opera today, including Louise Budd of the Metropolitan Opera Studio. Two other members of the cast, Alan Baker and Ronald Gerbrands, may be recalled by former Maine audiences for their successful roles at the Arundel Opera Theater of past years. Mr. Baker is also the Director of this production.

The musical director of the Turnau Company is Warren Wilson, also of New York. Mr. Wilson received his M.A. from the Julliard School of Music and has toured both Western and Eastern Europe as an accompanist and as a soloist. When not conducting for Turnau, Mr. Wilson is the full time accompanist for the noted singer, William Warfield.

The Kennebunkport Opera Fund is the fund raising arm of the Kennebunkport Opera Guild, now being incorporated. According to Louis Kashey, Jr., general manager, the “Barber of Seville” performance is part of an effort to obtain support which would warrant bringing the Turnau Opera Company to Kennebunkport for the entire 1968 summer season and, correspondingly, there­after.

The Turnau Opera Players have staged over 450 performances of 40 different operas, including 5 world premieres of contemporary works. The company has been organized as a non-profit, educational institution and enjoys a tax exempt status with the Federal Government. The Turnau Opera has been dedicated to presenting operas as it is meant to be—a complete union of dramatic and musical values.

Tickets may be obtained by phoning 967-2379 or 967-2593 (area Code 207) or by writing OPERA, Kennebunkport, Maine, 04046.

FIRING SQUAD

ANTI-LITTERBUG FIRING SQUAD by POLLY BRADLEY

If there’s one thing that bugs me, it’s a litterbug. I’m proposing a solution (one might call it the final solution): the firing squad.

A good, efficient anti-litterbug firing squad can fire a lot of excess litter into the trash barrel.

Last Tuesday I took the kids to the beach, and there on our beautiful shores, which on Monday had been raked clean of debris by the town, were 40 or 50 bright new beer cans...like so many colorful, newly-planted tourist flowers.

It’s hard to conceive of a party of 20 people, not one of whom will bother to pick up the beer cans. But it was also hard to believe that of all the disapproving people who had walked around the mess grumbling the next morning, no one had bothered to pick up the cans.

So, the kids and I cleaned up after the party. It only took a few minutes and it was great therapy. As I fired the cans into the trash barrel, each can in my mind was a full-sized, beer-balled litterbug. Wham! Crash! Another subconsciously inner aggression gone! It’s a good thing people can’t be sent to jail for imaginary mass murder.

I didn’t tell my children what was going on in my nasty adult mind. They were having too much fun innocently exploding imaginary bombs with each boom of the barrel.

Figure out the statistics: suppose half the people in the United States are not litterbugs and the other half are...a pessimistic estimate. All we need to solve the problem is for each anti-bug to pick up the mess of one bug. Not only that, but a party of 20 needs only one anti-litterbug in its midst to raise the latent consciences of the other 19 people.

MAN'S UNFAILING GUIDE

If there is anything which men need more than all else in these troublesome times, it is an able and dependable guide. No man is wise enough, save in his own concept, to steer a safe course in the stormy crosscurrents of evil that are now on a rampage throughout the world. God alone knows the end from the beginning. The course of human life is known to God.

"For this God is our God forever and ever; he will be our guide even unto death." Psalm 48:14. Now in order for an individual to receive daily guidance from the Lord, he must ask first. He must not ask, with a doubtful mind but in faith believing. It inspires courage and faith to discover the words of Jesus and the emphasis he placed on the word 'seeking'.

"Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." Matthew 7:7. It is not enough to pray just once. The easiest way of obtaining a blessing from God is to ask. SEEK implies a further degree of diligence as when something is out of place and we have to look for it. KNOCK signifies an ever greater degree of patient perseverance in our quest for answered prayer. It points out there may be one or more difficulties in our way. It shows we must not be discouraged with the problems but must keep looking, for not all prayers are answered quickly. Then, too, we must find the will of God.

In order to find the will of God we must search the Bible which is our unfailing guide. We pray for peace in spite of the Words of Jesus when he tells us there shall be wars and rumors of wars. We find our leaders and many people of our great country are afraid of Communism. Yet the Bible shows us that God raises up great nations with one purpose in mind, to chastise his erring people. We are doing the work of God's people. We say, 'In God We Trust.' Our unfailing guide tells us we must have national repentance—a turning to the Almighty God.

"Thus the Lord saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib, the King of Assyria, and from the hand of all others, and guided them on every side." II Chronicles 32:22. How did God guide his people? The only way he has ever guided them. He followed his commandments, statutes and judgments. God bless a people when they allow his Holy Word to guide them. It is a Word that never fails. It has the answer to our problems and fears.

Men put forth so much effort in finding the joys and pleasures of life. God's Word will guide us to prosperity if we will 'seek first the Kingdom of God.'

With our great advancements in every field we still need a guide. Christians need not taste defeat. God is our unfailing guide and he has given us his Word to discover His Will. Will you humble yourselves before Jesus Christ and ask forgiveness? Will you then walk worthy of your calling?

COMMUNITY CHURCH
A pleasant Sunday evening was spent at the Community Church when 40 members and friends gathered to honor Mr. and Mrs. Adra Lovley who were recently married.

A large basket of household gifts was presented to the couple and a social evening enjoyed. The committee arranging the party from the Ladies Circle was Charlotte Cookson.

CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS
"MAINE PIONEERS HELPED SETTLE THE WEST"
On July 24, hundreds of communities in the Western United States will celebrate Brigham Young's arrival in the Salt Lake Valley and the founding of the State of Utah (then called Deseret). While parades, rodeos, fairs, social and cultural events will mark the western celebrations, few people living as far east as Maine realize the events in the Pine Tree State over 130 years ago which played an important role in settling the West.

It was in 1837 that Wilford Woodruff, perhaps the greatest missionary in the history of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, began his work in Maine, the home state of his wife, Phoebe Carter of Scarborough. One year later he had preached in all the major cities of the State, and converted nearly the entire population of the Fox Islands. Wilford Woodruff's account contains many interesting events, including a journey through heavy mid-winter snows from Camden to Bangor on foot, and of baptizing new converts in the sea, and miraculous healings of the sick.

In 1838 the Latter-day Saints were called to gather in Illinois, and in October Wilford Woodruff started out with the first group from Maine. "On the 4th of October," he recorded, "we... started upon our journey of 6,000 miles... taking with me my wife, her nursing babe, to lead a company of 55 souls from Maine to Illinois, and to spend nearly 3 months traveling in wagons, through rain, mud, snow, and frost. It was such a trial as I never before had attempted during my experience as a minister of the gospel."

But it was an experience that prepared Wilford Woodruff and his band of pioneers for the famous trek from Illinois to Utah in 1847. It was from Wilford Woodruff's wagon on July 24, 1847, that Brigham Young said of the barren Salt Lake Valley, "This is the place, drive on!"

From Salt Lake the early pioneers, among them many New Englanders, settled such places as Idaho Falls, Idaho; Phoenix, Arizona; San Bernardino, California; and other western communities.

Wilford Woodruff returned to Maine several times during his lifetime, preaching in Portland, Bangor, Camden, and many communities along the way. He fulfilled a mission with Brigham Young to England and in his first year there baptized 360 persons into The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. In 1889 he was sustained as President of the Church, serving in that capacity until his death in 1898.

Today, 42 full-time missionaries and the members of 15 Latter-day Saint congregations in Maine remember, and value, the work of Wilford Woodruff and his early pioneer followers.
The Guilford Methodist Church held a food sale last Friday on the parsonage lawn. The sale was for the benefit of church finances and was reported to be very successful. Shown above are a few of the many people that stopped at the booth.
