Milo Girl Escapes Inn Fire

Miss Susan Paul of Derby was miraculously safe in her home on Monday when she told our reporter of her harrowing escape over the roof of the Squaw Mountain Inn during the early morning hours of last Sunday.

Miss Paul, who fortunately was spending the night with her friend, Marietta Pelletier, was wakened by the sound of the fire horn. The girls opened their door into a hall full of smoke and flames. They then broke out their window and removed the screen, thus gaining access to a ledge outside their window. They edged along the ledge for about 30 or 40 feet and then after deciding against jumping as they were on the third floor, they crawled up onto the roof, which they crossed to the opposite side and went down the fire escape to the ground.

Susan escaped in only her nightclothes and someone gave her blanket which she still had wrapped around her when her mother arrived to take her home.

Susan’s own room was in the back in the same section with three of her friends, the two girls who were killed.

MAINE POLICE WARN
"There's no turning back the calendar on the toll of death and injuries on our Maine highways to date this year.
But drivers throughout the state, as they prepare for the long awaited fourth of July weekend, can influence to a significant degree how much sorrow and grief will result from their participation in the heavy flow of traffic expected over our highways during this extended holiday period.
Certainly no one intends to become involved in a death or injury producing motor vehicle crash. And no one has to be if each driver employs the correct combination of good judgment and common sense during every moment of the operation of a motor vehicle.
This cannot be stressed too much or too often. It remains an indubitable fact that human errors of judgement are the leading cause factors in all highway crashes.
From an enforcement standpoint, all available Maine State Police personnel, including department specialist, have been assigned patrol duties in a concentrated effort to minimize our highway death and injury toll during the holiday period."
BEACHCOMBING AND BRUSHING

Today I went beachcombing with Randy, my five year old, and Scott, who is almost three. I thought I'd teach them about some of the wonders of nature while we were getting fresh air and sunshine.

"See this shell, boys? It's shaped like a boat or a slipper, so it's called a boat shell or slipper shell."

"What's this, Mommy?"

"That's an old glove with no thumb, Scott."

"Do gloves grow in the ocean, Mommy?"

"No, dear. See this rock with seaweed on it? This holdfast holds the seaweed onto the rock."

"Is this a holdfast, too?"

"No, Randy. That's a glob of rusty wire. Put it down. It's sharp."

"What's this, Mommy?"

"Half of a half-eaten orange, Scott. Put it down. It may have germs."

"See this periwinkle shell with a little round hole in it? Another little animal in a shell made that hole in the periwinkle's shell and ate up the periwinkle. No, Scott. Put it down. It may have germs."

"What's this, Mommy?"

"See this periwinkle shell with a little round hole in it? Another little animal in a shell made that hole in the periwinkle's shell and ate up the periwinkle. No, Scott. Put it down. It may have germs."

I wish people would stop throwing stuff into the ocean. Besides making a mess, it makes it hard to teach your kids about the glories of nature.
The prophets of doom who have been claiming that our Nation's economy is going to pot will be hard pressed to explain away the signs of continuing prosperity and growth indicated in the profits earned by America's biggest corporations in the first quarter of 1968.

A survey of more than 500 of the largest corporations disclosed that they enjoyed a 13% profit gain over the same period last year.

Ford Motor Company nearly doubled its first quarter profits, a rise from $102.6 million to $222.4 million.

In all, the S09 firms surveyed had total profits of $5.1 billion, up $391 million from a year ago.

The auto and auto equipment industry, which is an excellent barometer of the U.S. economy, showed a 30.7% rise. Other industries enjoying notable rises in profits were drug manufacturers with 18.5% gains; textiles were up 20.9%, building materials 31% and office equipment manufacturers 29.5%.

The higher profits reflect a robust economy and are an indication that the American people are enjoying the increased buying power that prosperity provides.

Even though no fanfare distinguished the day, June 12, 1968 will be remembered as the day on which older workers' rights to obtain and hold jobs gained specific protection under law.

On that day, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 which I sponsored came into force.

This law bans discrimination because of age in hiring, conditions of employment and retention on the job for workers between the ages of 40 and 65.

Many of the details of the law still have to be translated into labor Department regulations, but a recently published department pamphlet lists the broad provisions.

It is now against the law to fail to hire, or to fire or otherwise discriminate against a job applicant or employee because of age-to-classify workers on a basis of age in such a way as to deprive them of opportunities or benefits.

It is likewise now illegal for employment agencies for labor unions to use age as a criterion for referring people to jobs or to discriminate against older workers by indicating age preference or limitations in advertising job opportunities.

Many older workers have known the humiliation and despair that comes from being denied employment because he or she was an "old" 40 or 50 years of age. They were the victims of attitudes which have come down through the years from earlier days when old age came much earlier.

Today, people in good health are vigorous and alert up to the accepted retirement age of 65 and more. The Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 will rid them of prejudice based on age and expand their opportunities for uninterrupted employment.

Master Ricky Labby had a real fisherman's adventure landing this bass in the Sebec River right in the heart of downtown Milo. The fish which was 18 inches long and weighed a huge 2 lbs. 10 oz., was a scrapper. It broke Ricky's pole forcing him to land it hand over hand with the line, but a prize like this is worth a little sacrifice.

MAINE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Under court order the Maine Teachers Association withdraws the professional alert against the town of Lincoln.

The court granted an injunction against the MTA alert because of the statement in the alert announcement that teachers “have an ethical obligation not to accept positions where it has been determined that a climate conducive to professional services does not exist.”

The court held that this statement, raising the issue of ethics, applied to people in the teaching profession, amounts to coercion. The court acknowledged that the MTA has renounced the power to censure or to suspend a member who violates an alert and acted with what it considers to be good intentions.

The court further held that MTA officers and staff had exercised a constitutional right of free speech in criticizing the circumstances surrounding the Lincoln School Committee’s refusal to renew the contract of Leroy Nightingale.

In obedience to the court decision the MTA withdraws the alert and any implication of ethical obligation to observe the alert.

COUPLE WEDS AT GUILFORD

The marriage of Miss Everetta Ann Eastman of Guilford daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. Eastman and Clyde Allen Bowley Jr. of Charleston, Me. took place at the Baptist church in Guilford, June 23, with the Rev. Ralph Cole performing the ceremony.

Mrs. Ralph Cole was the organist.

The Bride's gown was a floor length white lace over taffeta with a shoulder length veil held by a pearl tiara. She held a white Bible with a corsage of white carnations and red rose-buds.

The Matron of Honor was Mrs. Stephen Lancaster of Dover. Foxcroft. She wore a gown of blue lace and carried a colonial bouquet.

The Bridesmaids were Miss Sylvis Tod and Mrs. Madelyn Hanson, who wore Pink lace gowns and carried a colonial bouquet of carnations and red rose-buds.

The Best Man was Mr. Stephen Lancaster, cousin of the bride. Ushers were Nelson Bridge and Russell Todd of Guilford.

The reception was held in the vestry which was decorated with pink and white streamers, accentuated by white wedding help.

Mrs. Goldie Hanson presided over the gift table. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Elcer Eastman, Mrs. Carol Eastman and Mrs. Donald Higgins.

After a brief honeymoon of undisclosed destination, Mr. and Mrs. Bowley will beat their new home on Hudson Ave. in Guilford.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bowley are employed in the Guilford industries.

MILO SERGEANT AWARDED AIR FORCE MEDAL

Master Sergeant Melvin A. Kittredge, son of Mrs. Gertrude Kittredge, of 18 High St., Milo, Maine, has received the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Edwards AFB, Calif.

Sgt. Kittredge, an aircraft maintenance superintendent, was decorated for meritorious service while assigned to Clark AFB, Philippines.

The Citation reads:

"Master Sergeant Melvin A. Kittredge distinguished himself by meritorious service as Hangar Chief, F4C Section, 6200 Organizational Maintenance Squadron, Clark Air Base, Republic of the Philippines from 21 June 1966 thru 10 April 1967. During this period, Sergeant Kittredge's outstanding professional skill, knowledge, and leadership was invaluable to the F4C Hangar Maintenance program by developing maintenance standards and practices which were effective in preventing maintenance delays and which increased maintenance efficiency, resulting in considerable savings to equipment, man-hours, and money. The distinctive accomplishments of Sergeant Kittredge reflect credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

The sergeant, now on duty at Edwards with a unit of Tactical Air Command, has served in Southeast Asia and was assigned in the European Theater of Operations during World War II.

A graduate of Milo High School, he received his associate degree in liberal arts in 1965 from Antelope Valley Junior College, Lancaster, Calif.

He is married to the former Elsie Madge Row of London, England. They have 2 sons and 1 daughter. Robin is in the Air Force and stationed at Lowery AFB in Colorado. Joy enlisted in the waves after graduation from Mohave High School in June. Owen, who is 13, is very active in Scouting.

2 Dozen Years of Service
Derby Mothers' Service Club

Mrs. Gladys Ricker, the surviving founder of the Derby Mothers' Service Club, knits for many worthwhile causes.

Displaying the quilts they make to raise money for their activities are Grace Collins, Alvina Cyr, Marion Williams, Marian Cunningham, Gladys Ricker, Laura Russell, Avis Spear, Mildred King, Lila Smith, and Blanche Smart.

The club met recently at the home of Mrs. Blanche Smart where they packed boxes for men overseas. Shown here are Mildred King, Blanche Smart, Grace Collins, Alvina Cyr, and Laura Russell.

The Derby Mothers' Service Club is unique in many ways. It was organized on September 5, 1944 by Mrs. Anne Paul and Mrs. Gladys Ricker. Its aim has been to boost the moral of Derby Service men and women. It is believed that this club is the only one of its type and its motto is "LIFT", written by Mrs. Thelma Ingerson.

Love one another
Inspiration to do good
Faith in God
Truthful in all things.

A boy or girl must be from Derby at the time of enlistment to be on the Club file. His mother is then invited to join the Club. After he enters the service, he receives a newsy letter from the Club. During his basic training, he receives a gift of $3.00, and on his birthday, the Club sends a greeting card and $2.00. If he happens to be in the hospital at any time during his service career, the Mothers send him a dollar for cigarettes and magazines and if married while in service, he receives a card. Special boxes or money are sent at Christmas and the boys receive $5.00 when discharged from the service. Boxes of books and a local paper are sent to all boys overseas. The books are donated to the Club by people interested in their work. They send The Readers Digest, Sports magazines, and paperback books. Many of the books sent are placed by the boys in hospitals and are always shared with many others. The Town Crier goes in all these boxes.

Boxes of miscellaneous articles are sent to boys in Vietnam and Thailand monthly. Contents vary from time to time but usually consist of such items as soap, stationery, hard candy, nuts, socks, (white cotton) canned fish and meats. Home cooked food is sent sometimes. These boxes also have a Town Crier enclosed.
How do they earn all the money they spend? The money is in the most part earned by the hard work of the members. Every year the Club has an annual fair as well as food sales and rummage sales. The Club puts on all the dinners for the B&A R.R. in the Derby Community Hall and also serve the Bowlers' Banquet. A project this year has been making patch work quilts and selling them by order. These orders for their quilts originated when one of their quilts was raffled off last year.

Besides their work for servicemen, in peacetime they have given to various organizations and the VA Hospital in Togus.

Among those club members who recently served a dinner to a Bangor & Aroostook group were Avis Spear, Marion Williams, Bev Pinette and Alvina Cyr.

(Staff photos on these pages by Mike Brigham)

In 1958 for example, they placed 2 mattresses, 9 bed tables and an insufflator, plus 37 gowns for patients in the Milo Hospital. They have made donations to burned out families. Recently they donated to the Butch Heal Memorial Fund. They have sent boxes of clothing to the children at the MyTho orphanage in Vietnam as well as other places. MSGT. Franklin L. Smart and L. Col. Allan Jose were their agents on these donations when they were there.

They spent $25 per boy in Vietnam each year. Their income this year is adequate to cover these expenses.

The Club receives donations from other clubs and individuals often. When Mrs. Anne Paul died, her son Allan was on duty onboard ship and his fellow crewmen made a generous donation in her memory.

The Club wished that everyone who has helped them could read and enjoy the nice letters they receive from the servicemen. A scrapbook of momentos and cards from the boys is kept by the Club. Some messages are scrawled in pencil on pastboard, perhaps during combat or bombing. In 1944 many V-mail letters were received. Some letters now are sent back on stationary provided by the Club.

There are at present 29 members of the Club. Mrs. Anne Paul had 8 boys in service and Mrs. Edith Rideout had seven. Mrs. Mildred King and Mrs. Estelle McSorley are gold star mothers. The current club file is 156 boys with 39 in active service today, with 9 of them overseas. They are Harold Morrison, Allan Whittaker, Richard Burton, Scott Smart, Monts...
O'Connor - Marks Wedding

Miss Linda Susan Marks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Marks of Milo and Martin O'Connor, son of Mrs. Gerald Ladd of Milo were united in marriage at a nuptual mass performed at St. Paul's Catholic Church, in Milo, by Father McDonald on June 29th.

The soloist was Mrs. Betty Whitney and the organist was Mrs. Eleanor Cyr.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an empire, A - line gown of rayon organza and chantilly lace fashioned with long sleeves. The removable organza train fell from the back waistline. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white daisies.

The Maid of Honor was Judy Marks, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Carolyn and Nancy Marks, sisters of the bride, and Barbara Gormley, cousin of the bride. They were dressed alike in pink floorlength gowns and carried bouquets of white daisies.

The best man was Thomas O'Connor, brother of the groom. Ushers were Kevin O'Connor, Gerald Ladd and Jack Foulkes. The flower girls were Wendy Marks and Kathy O'Connor. The reception was held at the American Legion Hall in Milo.

After a honeymoon trip the couple will reside in their home on Riverside Street, in Milo. (Staff photo by Mike Brigham)

The Great Seal of the United States

by Pastor Carlton Cockey

There is no instrument used by officials of our country that carries with it more significance than the Great Seal. Without this seal no document is legal or official. Not many people could describe the Great Seal though we see it every day on the back of our dollar bills. Think about this Seal. There is a Great Pyramid and above it an All Seeing Eye surrounded by the Shekina Glory. It is not difficult to know why these are there. We are a Christian nation. These things speak of the Almighty God. But why associate the Great Pyramid with the Almighty God?

One of the first things that Congress thought of in this infant country was the making of a Seal. It had to be a worthy stamp and express national character. A committee was named, two of whom were Thomas Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin.

This committee worked independently and when they brought their work together they saw they were all working along the same line of thought. Jefferson devised a scene consisting of a great multitude of people in flight. On their right a high range of mountains hemmed them in and on their left deep waters were closing in on them. An army was in their rear. In the middle a leader stood with his hands raised to heaven as in prayer. Jefferson was picturing Israel fleeing out of Egypt.

Franklin showed a scene of people in joy with great plains stretching out in front. Great waters in the rear showed a sinking army. Franklin pictured Israel free from bondage.

It is strange that our forefathers reached back into Egyptian and Israelite history for our Great Seal. Both of these sketches were rejected but a later date a third Egyptian scene was accepted as part of the Seal. Our leaders recognized the hand of God in the life of Israel and in our country.

The Eagle is one of the loftiest scriptural emblems of nationality. It is constantly referred to for its courage, its far seeing eye, its swiftness and its yearly renewal of its youth, (Job 39:28-30; Deut 28:49, Ps. 103:5). It is represented on our Seal with its wings raised and looking westward along the course of the nation.

From early times the shield has been the honored defensive arm. Though shields are not used today its significance is seen in the protection that is ours from God. Deut. 33:29 says, "Happy art thou, O Israel: who is like unto thee, O people saved by the LORD, the shield of thy help,..." God said to Abraham..."I am thy shield,..." Gen. 16:1. Many times in the Bible God is called the shield of his people.

Satan attacks us in many ways. One way is in superstition. Often we are afraid of Friday the 13th, of the involvement in any way of this number in our lives. Satan is discrediting our national number. Look at the Great Seal.

There are 13 arrows in the eagle's left claw representing its ability to make war. In the opposite talon you find it offers peace in the olive branch. There are found 13 leaves and 13 berries on this branch. God said, "The LORD called thy name, a green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit..." Jer. 11:16. Count also the 13 courses of stone in the pyramids, 13 stripes in

KINGDOM HALL OF JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES
MILO, MAINE

Jehovah's witnesses open their four-day "Good News for All Nations" district assembly today in Lewiston, Maine, and fifty delegates from Milo and Dover-Foxcroft plan to attend.

Murray Mayo, presiding minister here, announced cancellation of all meetings at the local Kingdom Hall until after the convention.

More than 3600 ministers, all Jehovah's witnesses, from New England, eastern Canada and even as far away as Nevada, are arriving in Lewiston for the convention. The Lewiston assembly is one of 49 such conventions being held in the United States and Canada this summer sponsored by the Watch Tower Society, New York.

"Large annual conventions held by Jehovah's witnesses over the years have been a stimulus of Christian faith and brotherhood," Mr. Mayo said. "Among the 'Good News for All Nations' district assemblies will feature the same program designed to help Jehovah's witnesses carry on a public ministry."

"People everywhere today are anxious about the immediate future and view it with uncertainty," Mayo said. "That is why education is the Bible will be the principal purpose of this convention. Jehovah's witnesses need to know how to live by Godly principles so as to teach other people. Several Bible dramas will be presented on the program to drive home the importance of Christian living in these crucial times.

A highlight of the week-end will be the public lecture Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. when Nathan H. Knorr, president of the Watch Tower Society and internationally known Bible lecturer, speaks to the assembly on the subject, 'Man's Rule About to Give Way to God's Rule.'

COUPLE WED AT SANGERVILLE

The marriage of Miss Beverly Ann McInnis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle McInnis of Dexter, to Mr. Gary Ronald Rees, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rees of Sangerville, was solemnized June 29 at 2:00 p.m. at the United Church of Sangerville with the Rev. Douglas P. Brayton officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. H. Milton Eades was organist, and Mrs. Diana Douley, sister of the bridegroom, was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length empire, A-line gown of chantily lace and nylon organza with detachable waltz train. The jeweled lace bodice was fashioned with sculptured neckline and long pointed sleeves. Sculptured lace formed the waltz train which flowed from the shoulders. The bouffant elbow length veil of imported silk illusion fell for a face-framer of lilies of the valley and orchid bow. She carried a cascading bouquet of miniature carnations and stephanotis.

The Matron of Honor was Mrs. Joan Anderson of Dover-Foxcroft. The Bridesmaids were Miss Judith Bennett of Abbott, Miss Paula Worden, and Miss Sharon Worden, both of Dexter. The attendants wore mint green floor-length skimmer gowns of karate and lace fashioned with scoop neckline and short lace capes. Their headpieces were matching pearl-edged caps with face veils.

The Matron of Honor carried a colonial bouquet of solid color pink miniature carnations. Colonial bouquets of pink and white miniature carnations were carried by the bridesmaids.

The flower girls, Pamela and Barbara Anderson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson of Dover-Foxcroft, wore a—
