Education News

M. S. A. D. NO. 41

The Directors have been busy of late finishing the preparation of the 1970 proposed District Budget. Under the new collective bargaining law, the Directors Negotiating Team has been negotiating with the Education Association Team regarding teachers salaries.

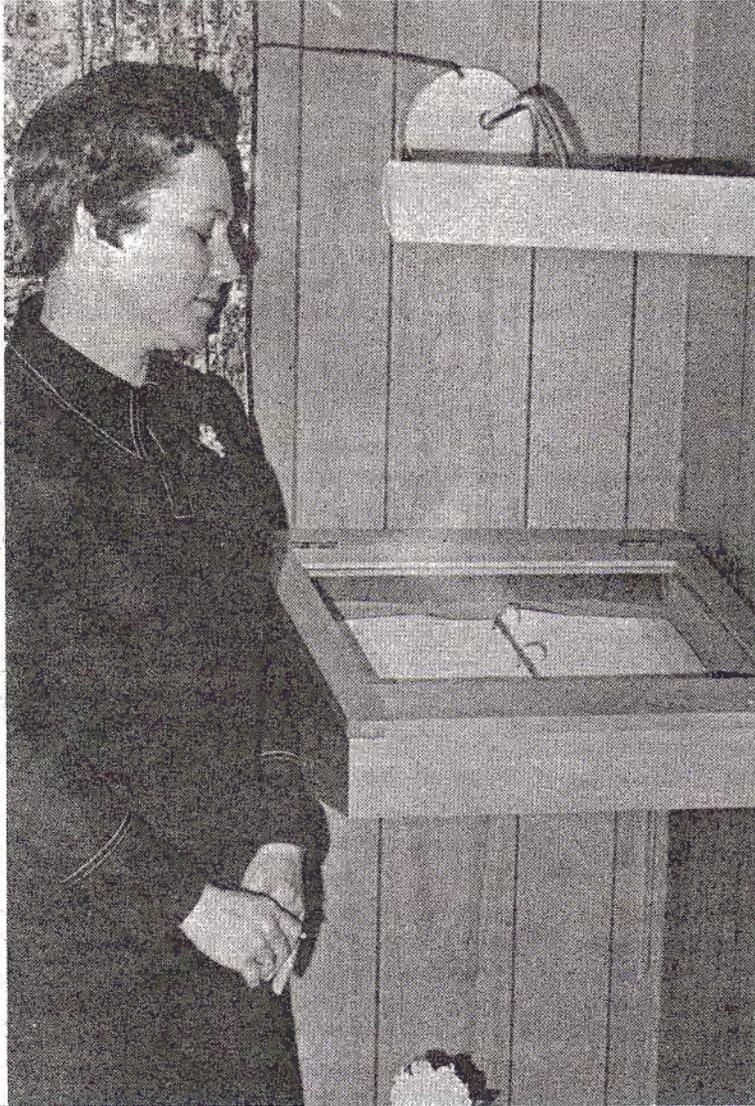

The Directors have voted to present a budget calling for $933,210.00. This will require an assessment of $355,515.94 or $1,420.40 more in assessment than was finalized at last year's Annual District Meeting. These figures are for the general operational budget. In addition to this, three articles will be offered to the voters. One article will be for a $25,000.00 Capital Reserve item to be placed with the fire insurance account. This could be used in either renovation or future construction. Another article will call for $5,000.00 to operate an Adult Education program, and the third article will contain a $5,400.00 figure for purposes of buying prior service time in the Main State Retirement System for Maintenance personnel.

The towns of the District collectively should have $57,192.56 to place against assessments this year unless a town had issued an abatement which the District is not at this time cognizant of.

The Directors have voted to streamline the administrative organization by placing all K-6 supervisors under one principal. The 7th and 8th grade position will be that of a half-time teaching and half-time supervisor. In effect, the system has moved to a 7-2-4 plan. The Directors feel this will be educationally sound.

New at M. C. Hospital

MILO COMMUNITY HOSPITAL MEMORIAL FUND

Upon the decease of a former fellow employee, Helen Harmon, the Hospital Employees decided to set up a Memorial in her memory.

Stephen J. Leavitt, who is handy in making such things, volunteered to supply a suitable case in which to display a Memorial Book. The case is lined with blue velvet, and the book is designed to provide a record of all donations made in memory of a friend or loved one.

This fund is maintained in a separate account at the hospital, and is to be used for the purchase of needed items of equipment from time to time.

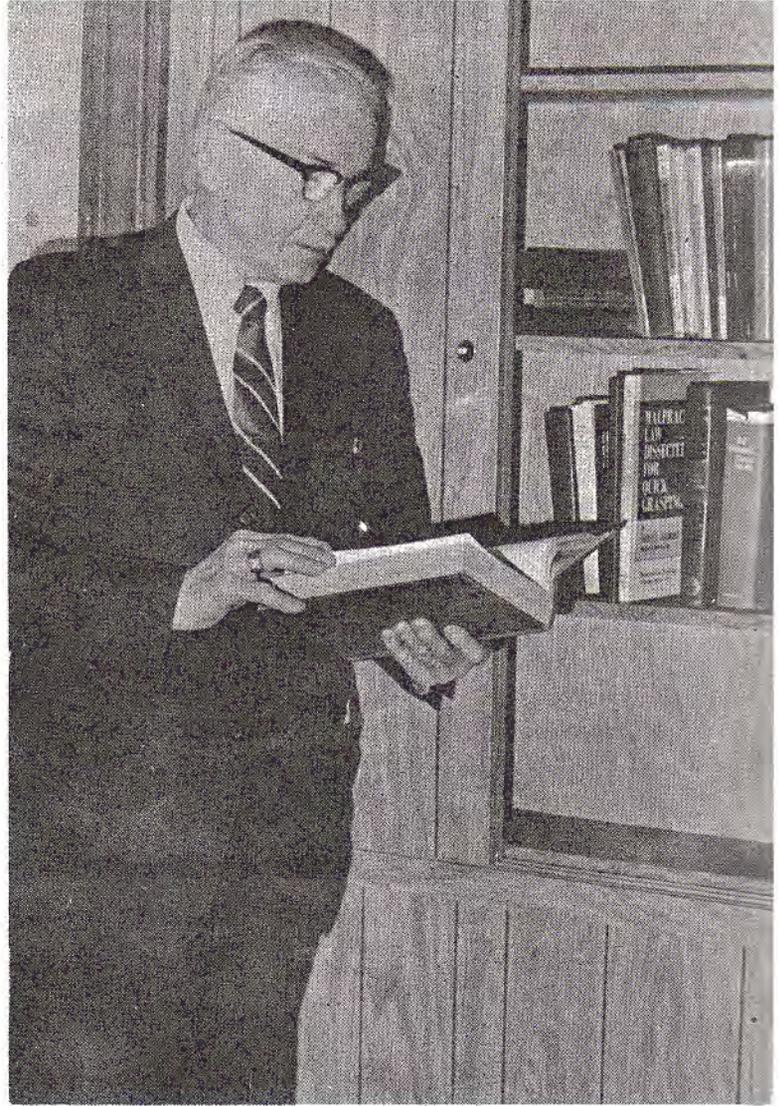

Anyone desiring to do so may make a donation in the memory of a deceased, whose name will be inscribed in the Book of Memory. (In the picture, Mrs. Shirley Ellingson, daughter of Mrs. Helen Harmon, is inspecting the case and book.)

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

Did you miss out on enrolling for Medicare medical insurance benefits when you were 65?

Did you terminate your Insurance Benefits, but now you want to be covered again.

If so, Mr. J. Lawrence Guice, District Manager of the Bangor Social Security Office has announced a General Enrollment Period running from January 1, 1970 through March 31, 1970, when you may enroll or re-enroll under certain conditions.

MEDICAL REFERENCE LIBRARY FOR MILO COMMUNITY HOSPITAL

A Medical Reference Library is one of the requirements which a hospital must maintain in compliance with Medicare.

Due to constantly changing methods of treatment there is a continuing need for up-dating medical reference books in the library. A few volumes already are available and in order that they may be readily accessible, a case has been constructed in the hospital by William Curtis, complete with sliding doors for their protection.

When you were sixty-five you could have enrolled during a seven month period ending three months after your birthday month. If it is no later than three years after the date your coverage is terminated, you may now enroll during this General Enrollment Period. Remember, you may enroll for medical insurance only twice.

If you are making a late enrollment or second enrollment during this General Enrollment Period your coverage will begin July 1, 1970.

If you have any questions on enrolling for medical insurance call, write or visit your social security office.

In addition to this, a housing plan has been adopted that will maintain a good teacher pupil load.

In an attempt to maintain a budget without innreased assess-ment, other items were deleted or not revived. The School Nurse is not included, the Assistant Principal, Director of Testing and Guidance Department has been deleted, Conversa-tional French and Elementary Music have not been proposed.

The area that the Directors have been most concerned about has been the fact that estimated receipts are down from last year. 1969 - $637,595.76 against 1970 estimated 577,694.06. This is due in part to a new subsidy formula which is not going to help the District as much as was hoped, plus, problems in the present new law which were unforseen by Legislature but will cost us over $18,000 in receipts. There is a bill in the special session to correct this, but the bill's status is not known at this time.

The Directors have accepted the resignation of Mrs. Florence Decker who served education for 42 years. Twenty eight of those years were in Union 85 and M. S. A. D. #41. Mrs. Roberta Smol-enack has been hired to replace Mrs. Decker around February 16. Mrs. Smolenack presently teaches Kindergarten in Dover-Foxcroft and has had experience in New Jersey. She is the wife of Mr. Harry Smolenack, M. S. A. D. #41 Industrial Arts in-structor.

The Directors have voted to increase hot lunch prices 5 cents for everybody. The cafeteria needs around $30,000.00 receipts to break even. This increase will help offset increased food costs.

Mrs. Lois Randazzo a student at the University of Maine, will do Elementary Guidance Counseling Training in the Brownville Schools one day a week this second semester.

Director Wilbur Kinney from Atkinson has resigned. He has been replaced by Mr. David Kinney. Director Lawrence Sul-livan from Brownville Jct. has resigned. He has been replaced by Mrs. Sterling Strout.

The Directors have negotiated fully with the architect regarding the renovation plans and specification. Final settlement was $5,618.75. The plans and specifications are already to go if this is still the feeling of citizens at the District Meeting.

It has been voted to held the Annual District Meeting, Febru-ary 19, 1970. Information on budget hearings will be publicized in the near future.

Our Debating Patriots are out of this world. They are taking on some of the finest in New England and coming out like champ-ions. They took Bangor and Orono last week in practive and should do well in the Maine Interscholastic League at Bates which has members covering the whole state. In competition at the University of New Hampshire where forty schools from New England participated the affirmative team won two and tied one. One member of the team, Kathy Rhoda, received an individual speaker trophy.

From the Pastor's Desk

THE TRIUMPH OF FAITH by Pastor Carlton Cockey
Paul was in Rome when he wrote about his life in beautiful words. Perhaps the sentence of death had been passed on him or he may simply have known it was coming. "For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith" (II Timothy 4:6-7). This, to Paul, was a beautiful finish to life. He had fought a good fight and he makes it plain that it was a fight of keeping the Faith. He, in his last words, exhorts Timothy to continue to fight the fight of faith. "I am finished" are not words of sorrow or self pity. Paul was jubilant in the victory faith provided throughout his life.

In II Timothy 1:8 we discover Paul sensed his own convert seemed to be a little ashamed of the gospel. "Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner; but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God;" The challenge of the gospel for centuries is the affliction that goes with believing the Christian message. There is a definite reproach that goes with the preaching and teaching of the gospel. Let none of us take offense of the gospel.

We wonder why God chose this man, Paul, who was so out of step with the world, despised, hated forsaken and avoided, by friends and finally by some of the churches he had established. Here is a man that endured persecution wherever he went. Here is a man much misunderstood by most people. Why Paul and not Barnabas? Paul was in trouble everywhere he went. God chose him to lay the foundations for Christian civilization. Every Christian has built this doctrine and faith upon the writings of Paul. There is just one reason God chose Paul.

"And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry". (I Timothy 1:12). Paul was faithful to his calling. This faithfulness to the Word of God got Paul into all kinds of trouble.

Paul was often disturbed because converts quickly fell from the faith with the notion that they had to develop, promote and refine the old personality. This is the battle Paul constantly faced. He did not back down at any time. He was criticized and denounced by the very people he had won to Christ. This is the way it always has been. The people one tries to help will be the first to turn against him as they begin to rely on their own strength.

The book of Acts gives again the words of Paul as he speaks of the ending of his fruitful life. "But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy..." (Acts 20:24). He did not finish his life in anger or in sorrow. He did not finish his life a broken old man. He finished with joy. Verse 31 speaks of tears while he labored amongst the people. There are no more tears. Faith has triumphed. Sorrows have been lost in joy. Tears have changed into the crown of glory worn by the faithful Paul. Every problem and every need in his life was faced with the determination that he could do all things through Jesus Christ. His last hours of the triumph of faith.

HATHAWAY

FROM CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM D. HATHAWAY THE TAX REFORM ACT OF 1969

Probably no other item of national legislation received as much public attention in 1969 as the Tax Reform Act, which was approved by both Houses of Congress three days before Christmas and signed into law by the President on December 29.

That the measure did attract this attention is not surprising, for over the past few years the mood of the country has expressed clear signs of a growing discontent over high taxes and inflation. And there was much evidence that the public's concern was justified.

An Internal Revenue Service report in 1968 showed, for example, that during the preceding year 21 millionaires and 134 other extremely wealthy individuals with incomes in excess of $200,000 paid no income taxes at all. No wonder there was a taxpayer's revolt.

Since the Tax Reform Act became the law of the land, it has been applauded by the great majority of the American people. Still, some have criticized it for not going far enough in its reform, and others have charged that it goes too far. The mixed reaction is understandable.

Greater equity in the tax code was the goal of the Congress when it embarked on its tax reform initiative. In achieving that goal, the former inequities as well as the appreciation of those who had suffered under them.

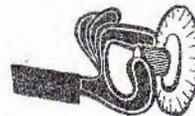

The product of Congressional tax reform efforts in 1969 is by no means perfect. There will always be room for tax reform. But I think Congress can be proud of its work. For in restructuring our massive and complicated tax code as comprehensively as it did in the Act of '69, Congress accomplished a legislative miracle.

Summary on Request: The 255-page Tax Reform Act of 1969 was composed by some of the foremost tax experts in the country and, necessarily, expressed in language that is not easily understandable to anyone but a specialist in the tax field.

I have therefore undertaken to compile a summary 'translation' of all the provisions of the Act, which I shall be happy to forward on request. Requests should be sent to: Congressman William D. Hathaway, 329 Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515.

MILO JUNIOR LEAGUE

The Milo Junior League held its regular monthly meeting at the Pleasant River Grange Hall Thursday, January 22, with six guests present. Mrs. Sheila Strout was welcomed as a new member of the club.

Monthly reports were read and approved and the yearly budget was presented and accepted.

The club volunteered to assist with the March of Dimes campaign in town and material was distributed.

It was voted to sponsor a dance in April to correspond with sesquicentennial activities and to organize the womens clubs of Milo to sponsor a float for the sesquicentennial parades.

Members were asked to conclude the sale of Maine place-mats by Feb. 1st.

After the business meeting Mr. Paul Day showed a film strip on birth defects and gave a brief talk on the work of the March of Dimes and Mrs. Marian Henderson of Brownville Jet. spoke on ceramics and displayed several pieces of her work. Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. Louise Rhoda, Mrs. Sandra Clark, and Mrs. Diana Fowles.

Q) Where can I get a copy of your tax guide?

A) A copy of Your Federal Income Tax 1970 edition may be purchased from most IRS offices for 60 cents. You may also obtain this publication by using the order form on the inside cover of the 1040 tax form package. Send a check or money order with the order blank to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Q) Other than the fact that color makes the form look nicer is there any advantage in having red, white and blue tax forms?

A) It is expected that color will draw the taxpayer's attention to those areas on the tax form where errors are made which lead to delays in processing returns and issuing refunds. The instructions for using the pre-addressed name label and signing the return, for example, are highlighted in red.

Common reasons for delays in processing returns and issuing refunds are a missing or inaccurate Social Security number or an illegible name or address. When a return is filed using the label showing the taxpayer's correct name, address and Social Security number, this cause for delay is removed.

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) I kept a record of my earnings and withholdings for the year and am all set to file my return. Do I have to wait until I get my W-2?

A) Yes, one copy of all W-2's must be attached to your tax return when you send it in. Processing of the returns and refunds are delayed if this is not done. You should receive your W-2 no later than February 2.

Note that this year, the W-2 should be stapled to the back of Form 1040 rather than the front.

Q) Is there any change in who has to file a return for 1969?

A) Filing requirements for 1969 Federal income tax returns are unchanged from last year.

To summarize them, a return must be filed by every person under 65 who had gross income of $600 or more for the year. For those 65 or older on the last day of tax year, a return does not have to be filed until gross income reaches $1,200.

Also, anyone who has net earnings of $400 or more from self-employment, is required to file a return and pay self-employment tax.

Filing requirements also apply to minors. A parent or guardian should file a return on behalf of a child who has gross income of $600 or more during the tax year. In every case, you must file a return to get any refund due.

Q) I'm a senior at college and I'm due a tax refund on some part-time work I did. Can I claim my own exemption without causing my father to lose the exemption he claims for me?

A) Yes, if you were a full-time student during some part of five months of the year, you can claim your own exemption and your father will not lose you as an exemption, so long as the necessary dependency tests are met. In this situation, the same exemption can be claimed on two returns, yours and your parent's.

Q) What taxes can I deduct?

A) If you itemize deductions, state and local income, sales, gasoline, personal property and real estate taxes may be deducted. These should be listed on Schedule A Itemized Deductions, and attached to your Form 1040.

Those who itemize will find that using the new Schedule A

Open Letters

The Pen Is Mightier Than The Sword

We welcome all Open Letters and Letters to the Editor.

Dear Editor

Growth is a factor in high taxes and higher costs. If we, as a town, expect to survive economically, we must have a different approach to a number of problems.

Let us take Bangor, our closest city for example. Bangor is growing very rapidly, but on whose money? The surrounding townspeople are feeding Bangor's businesses thereby depriving their own towns of the income and growth necessary for their own survival. We earn our money in Milo, then spend it in Bangor. They are reaping the harvest on our sweat.

It isn't only Milo people which are guilty of this, it is all the area towns. Don't we realize that this is what is draining the blood from small towns. Any businesses we have are only staying status quo, with perhaps a few exceptions. As our town goes downhill or at best stays even, we must continue to support schools, hospital services and the necessary things with a limited return.

We can't expect to spend our money in Bangor and have them give it back to Milo. If you have a growing community it can pay its own way. But as things are now, it can not.

We are all guilty of helping Bangor build colleges, airports, big shopping centers, etc. If all area towns would get together and do what is right, they would soon see Bangor staying status quo or less.

We are robbing Peter to pay Paul so Paul is getting rich and Peter is starving. Support your local businesses and help lower your own taxes.

Ken Beals

EDITOR'S NOTE

We heartily agree with Mr. Beal's opinion in this matter. We have long advocated this very thing in previous editorials. How many businesses have closed in Milo in the last five years? How many new ones have started? On Main Street right now there are at least six empty places where businesses were located twenty years ago when the road to Bangor wasn't as smooth and cars as luxurious as today.

Keep in mind that everytime a businessman is forced to close down his business, his tax bill has to be divided among the taxpayers who remain. Every time you take your paycheck out of town, you hurt yourself and your neighbor who runs the local store.

It is not only Milo which has this problem. Brownville Jct.'s Main Street now boasts three stores where twenty years ago there were eight. Charity begins at home, so does good business sense.

Area Counseling

ADVANCES MADE IN SERVICES

At the year's end, David Rudolph, Area Director for The Community Counseling Center, reported a tremendous increase of cases being handled in the Dover-Foxcroft office.

He reported that Mr. McDowell's, The Center's psychiatric social worker, case load increased from four cases transferred from The Counseling Center, Bangor, the first of November to a total of 40 cases which had been seen regularly by the end of the year. It is interesting to note that the sources of referrals has broadened considerably. The source providing the greatest number of referrals has been the transfer of patients from the Bangor Counseling Center. School personnel and the workers of the O.E.O. agency, Family Betterment, provided the next most numerous referrals. The clergy, traditionally high on any list of sources of referrals, was considerably farther down the list. Other persons who have recommended our services were relatives, the County Attorney's office, the District Court Justice, a social worker at Bangor State Hospital, the Sheriff's office, a town manager, the public health nurse, the AFDC social worker, and others. Several came because they had heard of this office through friends or had read of it in newspaper articles.

The several kinds of referrals that were most numerous were the result of marital problems, school adjustment problems, and other individual mental adjustment problems such as emotional depression. Several cases have already been closed either on a voluntary basis or because an adjustment to handling the problem had been realized by the patient.

Presently The Community Counseling Center is in the process of making arrangements for the services of another clinician, Mr. Richard Brown, a psychologist, so that better services may be provided the clients of this office. This will give the Center two days of therapy sessions per week. Another psychologist, Mrs. Nancy Frank has been coming to The Center on a one day a week basis to provide testing services for evaluation and diagnosis. It is hoped that two programs of testing of special school classes will be accomplished in June for The Little Red School House and the Penquis Friends for the Retarded schools; arrangements are being finalized.

Other services that are being offered in the area are a series of classes, a fifteen week course accredited by the State Department of Education for resertification purposes, concerning "The Problems of the Withdrawn Child, the Overactive Child, the Aggressive Child, and the Sociopathic Child," and the fifth area is in regard to "Mental Health and the Family." The first in this series began simultaneously in Dexter and Newport on January 8th.

A series of discussions have been held in Greenville with Rev. Alexander Cairns and Rev. Father Holland acting as resource personnel. The lead topic was in regard to the problem of "Suicide." This program has been initiated and is continuing under the leadership of the Rev. William Hamel.

Mr. Rudolph also announced that Dr. William Sharpe, a psychiatrist, will be soon employed to serve the Dover-Foxcroft and Millinocket offices of The Counseling Center. He will become a permanent resident of Willimantic sometime in the spring. It is also hoped that in the near future The Community Counseling Center will be able to initiate other services, an adult day care program and group therapy. Several possibilities now exist, but must be held in abeyance pending various decisions and planning meetings.

COMPLETE COUNSELING SERVICE

For more than six months a complete counseling service has been available to Maine families with diseases of a hereditary nature.

Yet, according to the physician who directs the Ellsworth based Maine Genetics Counseling Service, the public doesn't seem to be aware that such a service exists in Maine.

Dr. John C. Van Pelt, Ellsworth pediatrician who heads a National Foundation sponsored and supported genetics counseling team, reports that physicians in Maine and nearby areas have been alerted to the new service.

But, says Dr. Van Pelt, the very people for whom the counseling center was set up don't seem to know about the service.

"The genetics counseling service is particularly for those families that have produced children with birth defects," says Dr. Van Pelt. "These families want to know if the birth defects have a hereditary basis, and they want to know if they can risk having more children. In many cases the center can advise whether or not the possibility exists that birth defects will occur in future children pregnancies in progress, or in future generations."

The Maine Genetics Counseling Center has its headquarters Ellsworth and consists of a team which includes Dr. Van Pelt, Dr. Morris A. Lambdin, Chief of Pediatrics at Maine Coast Memorial Hospital, Merrill C. Bunker, a cytogeneticist at the Jackson Laboratory, and Dr. Thomas H. Roderick, a geneticist on the staff of The Jackson Laboratory.

The counseling services are available to residents of Maine and nearby areas at no cost through a grant from the National Foundation - March of Dimes.

Explaining the system under which the center operates, Dr. Van Pelt advises that families seeking genetic counseling should talk with their own physicians, an authorized health agency, or the National Foundation - March of Dimes.

In most cases, after a referral has been made to the Counseling Center, information required for counseling will be requested from the referring physician who will be considered an integral member of the Center team. He will be assisted in obtaining the pertinent information necessary to the evaluation of the families involved.

In the six months since the Center was started, 16 cases have been referred. Dr. Van Pelt reports. Five reports have been made, and the team is gathering information, including family pedigrees, on the other 11.

"In most cases there is no such thing as instant diagnosis," says Dr. Van Pelt. "The information is pooled, and each member of the team contributes to the final report. In some cases a chromosome analysis is required, the available literature has to be researched, and a complete study of a complex set of factors made before the team can make a report.

"But the value of genetic counseling to parents and to their children, born and unborn, can be inestimable," concluded Dr. Van Pelt.

Birth defects of a hereditary nature include but are not limited to Down's syndrome (Mongolism), hemophilia, muscular dystrophy, cancer, and repeated miscarriages.
